

THE ADVENTURES OF THE GRAND LIBRARIAN

Each week, we will have a new chapter in the continuing saga, with a vital choice to be made at the end. Follow along, and let us know what the Librarian should do next.

WEEK 2

The Grand Librarian's eyes scanned the sky, but saw nothing but white, fluffy clouds.

"Hmmmmm..." she thought.

"Well, I must be off to see my Grandmother, I am already late." announced the red hooded girl.

And off she skipped into the dense green forest.

"Hey, Red." shouted the Grand Librarian, "beware of the wolf." But the words were lost in the wind.

"HELP" the cry rushed past the GL like a kite.

The GL walked a few feet looking up for the source of the cry when she smacked straight into the trunk of a tree. After looking at the trunk, she realized it wasn't a tree after all, but a huge green, fuzzy trunk of a bean stalk.

"Jack?!?" the Grand Librarian shouted up to the sky. "Is that you?"

"What am I thinking?" the GL thought to herself. "Who is Jack?"

At the very thought, she heard three powerful thunder rolls. But it wasn't raining and there was no lightning. And the word "giant" trickled into her brain....

The Grand Librarian studied the trunk and found notches in the beanstalk, so she started to climb.

"I'll just take a little peek," she reassured herself.

She climbed and climbed, which seemed like hours, carefully finding her footholds and reaching for the next notch like a rock climber. She was not experienced in such adventure, but in fairy tales, one finds herself much more capable than in the Realm of Sheldon.

As she reached the heavens, the clouds became dense and the GL found that she could barely see the trunk she was climbing on. She carefully reached out her hand, she felt solid ground.

"I'm here." she thought, "wherever here is."

She listened for danger, but everything was as still as a graveyard in the middle of the night.

"Ugh... I should go back down." she shivered.

What should the Grand Librarian do next?

- A. Return to the ground and look for Rumpelstiltskin
- B. Search for Jack
- C. Go find the fairy tale book

Answer our poll on Facebook, or call the library at 324-2442 to vote by Friday at 4:30.